Elevated Risk Of Wildfires This Afternoon And Early Evening...

A combination of low relative humidity, gusty westerly winds, and dry fine fuels will lead to an elevated risk for fire spread with any potential fire starts this afternoon across New Jersey and southeast Pennsylvania. Minimum relative humidity values this afternoon will range from 20 to 25 percent across the region.

Winds will be sustained from 10 to 15 mph with gusts around 20 to 25 mph, highest around mid to late afternoon.

Residents are urged to exercise caution if handling any potential ignition source, including machinery, cigarettes, and matches. Be sure to properly discard all smoking materials. Any dry grasses, dead leaves, and other tree litter that ignite will have the potential to spread fire quickly.

For more information about wildfire danger, burn restrictions, and wildfire prevention and education, please visit your state's forestry or environmental protection website.

Heritage Center Service Clubs Exhibit Opens to Public April 22

“Centuries of Service: A Salute to Slate Belt Service Clubs” opens to the public Saturday, April 22, from 12 – 3 pm at the Slate Belt Heritage Center.

Service is people helping people without any expectation of reward. The new show follows the growth of service clubs, from the mutual benefit societies that only aided members, to the 20th century clubs that gave men, women, boys, and girls a voice and promoted good citizenship, to today’s national organizations that are open to all.

You’ll discover why people formed these clubs, get a glimpse into some of the “secret” early rituals, and connect their causes and mission to the community. From the Knights of the Golden Eagle to the Weona Park Pals, all worked (and played) to serve the Slate Belt.

You can also enjoy refreshed exhibits that feature early Slate Belt History, from the Lenape to the European settlers like the Beck family, to the waves of European immigrants that found employment in the slate, textile and garment industries. The fire-fighting exhibit features antique apparatus from the Slate Belt’s golden industrial age.

This year they collaborate with the Quarry Hoist Group and Totts Gap Art Institute, which will dedicate the new pavilion for the S. Flory Manufacturing Company Hoist in Bethel Park next door the heritage Center on North First St..

The dedication ceremony starts at 11 am and demonstrations will continue through the afternoon. The Heritage Center (adjacent to Bethel Park) will open from 12 - 3, serve light snacks, and have special displays of Flory Manufacturing material. You’ll be able to view a continuous slide show that highlights the life of the hoist from the quarry to its new home.

The Heritage Center will also unveil the new outdoor signage sponsored by a Northampton County Department of Community and Economic Development Hotel Tax Grant. The NPS standard display signs bring Slate Belt history out of the museum and into downtown Bangor.

The Slate Belt Heritage Center is located in the 1907 Town Hall building at 30 North First Street, Bangor, PA. Founded in 1999, the Center is a not-for-profit- 501 (c) 3 that collects, preserves, interprets and makes public the history, ethnic traditions and industrial heritage of the area. SBHC is open Saturdays and Sundays, noon to 3 PM from mid-April through October and Sundays, November through March, noon - 3PM. Tours and research time can be scheduled by appointment.

Check their Facebook page at Slatebeltheritagecenter-SBHC for program times, events and other news. Contact SBHC at 610-599-4993 or sbhc@frontier.com for further information.

A photograph of a female athlete, Julia Pinter, in the middle of a javelin throw. She is wearing a maroon and white athletic singlet with "SLATERS" printed on it, black shorts, and white sneakers. She is in a dynamic pose, leaning forward with her right arm extended holding the javelin and her left arm back. In the background, two other athletes in dark blue singlets are watching. A yellow school bus is parked behind a chain-link fence. The scene is outdoors on a grassy field with red boundary lines.
