When NOT to Seek a Covid Test

St. Luke's University Health Network reminds the public that the Network requires a doctor's order for Covid-19 tests at its testing sites. Currently, the lines and wait-times at testing sites are hours long.

People who are symptomatic and have tested positive using an at-home test should NOT seek a second, confirmatory laboratory test from the Network. (An at-home test that produces a positive result in a symptomatic individual is considered highly accurate, a second, laboratory test is not necessary.)

People who believe they have been exposed to Covid but are not symptomatic should NOT go to a St. Luke's emergency department or a St. Luke's Care Now care location for a Covid test to rule out infection. Additionally, people should NOT go to St. Luke's for a Covid test for travel needs.

"Our region is experiencing a surge in demand for testing because of the Omicron variant," said Jeffrey Jahre, MD, St. Luke's Senior Vice President of Medical & Academic Affairs and Section Chief Emeritus of Infectious Diseases. "We ask for the public's thoughtful cooperation to ensure our region's health care resources are available and accessible in a timely manner to those patients with the greatest need."

If you develop a fever and symptoms such as a cough or difficulty breathing, call your doctor for medical advice. For St. Luke's patients, please do one of the following: Call your St. Luke's Physician Group practice. Download the St. Luke's app to utilize the video visit feature to connect with a doctor.

For patients without a doctor, call St. Luke's Coronavirus hotline at 1-866-STLUKES (785-8537), option 7.

Fully vaccinated and boosted individuals with mild Covid symptoms such as a runny nose do not need to go to a hospital emergency department. Those experiencing more serious Covid symptoms such as difficulty breathing, sustained high fever, confusion or the inability to maintain adequate hydration should seek medical attention. Jahre noted that people who go to a hospital emergency department or urgent care location may experience longer wait times because of the ongoing surge in Covid-19 Omicron cases. "We ask people to be respectful to our staff, who are working diligently under very challenging circumstances," he said

National Pepper Pot Day

National Pepper Pot Day celebrates a soup with deep roots and a mythology to go with it. On December 29th, explore the flavors and history of the filling dish.

Pepper pot soup is a highly seasoned soup prepared with peppercorns, small bits of meat, tripe, vegetables, and broth. The dish may be more familiar by the name of Philadelphia Pepper Pot because it was brought to the area by people from Africa, the West Indies, and the Caribbean. Colonial Black women served the dish in their homes, the homes where they worked, and in markets. It's considered an early street food by many historians.

One legendary credits this soup to George Washington's chef. The story goes that during the brutal winter of 1777 and 1778, the Continental Army was camped t Valley Forge on December 29th. George Washington asked the army's chef to prepare a meal that would boost morale and warm the troops. So the chef rounded up some ingredients and called it Pepper Pot Soup.

U.S. Army Massacres Indians At Wounded Knee

On December 29, 1890, in one of the final chapters of America's long Indian wars, U.S. Cavalry kills 146 Sioux at Wounded Knee on the Pine Ridge reservation in South Dakota. Throughout 1890, the U.S. government worried about the increasing influence at Pine Ridge of the Ghost Dance spiritual movement, Many Sioux believed that if they practiced the Ghost Dance and rejected the ways of the white man, the gods would create the world anew and destroy all non-believers, including non-Indians. On December 15, 1890, reservation police tried to arrest Sitting Bull, the famous Sioux leader, who they mistakenly believed was a Ghost Dancer, and killed him in the process, increasing the tensions at Pine Ridge. On December 29, the 7th cavalry surrounded a band of Ghost Dancers and demanded they surrender their weapons. A fight broke out between an Indian and a U.S. soldier and a shot was fired, although it's unclear from which side. A brutal massacre followed.,

QUESTION OF THE DAY

What's the name of Saturn's largest moon?
And the answer: Titan.

As the second largest moon in our solar system, Titan is larger than Mercury, and about 50% larger than Earth's moon. According to NASA, of all the places in the solar system, Titan is the only place besides Earth known to have liquids in the form of seas, rivers, and lakes on its surface..
In 1655, Dutch astronomer Christiaan Huygens had an inspired idea: if Galileo could find the moons of so could he. Using a telescope he constructed himself, Huygens set out to locate and name Saturn's moons. With abounding luck, Huygens gave way to a monumental discovery: Titan.

Appointments Required for Vaccines at LVHN

Lehigh Valley, Pa. (Oct. 29, 2021) – Beginning Monday, Nov. 1, Lehigh Valley Health Network (LVHN) will offer COVID-19 vaccinations, including booster shots, through appointment only. Walk-in vaccinations are no longer available at this time.

They have made this change in response to an increased demand for vaccines and booster shots, and in anticipation of the Pfizer/BioNTech vaccine receiving emergency use authorization (EUA) for children ages 5-11. Appointment-only vaccinations support the safety and experience of those receiving vaccines under our care, allowing our clinicians to adequately plan and prepare for the number of individuals expected at each location.

You can schedule an appointment for a booster dose or first dose by calling our vaccine hotline at 833-584-6283 (833-LVHN-CVD) Monday-Friday, 8:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m. or by using MyLVHN, our patient portal.

Pen Argyl Boys Defeat Sussex 46-39

The Pen Argyl Green Knights boys basketball team broke a six-game losing streak defeating Sussex Tech 46-39 in the Belvidere Basketball tourney played Monday afternoon.

The Knights, playing without leading scorer Damian Tyminski, increased a 20-15 halftime lead to 33-20 going into the final period. Tech's Jesse Griner, however, erupted for 14 of his game-high 16 points in the final period closing the gap down the stretch.

Pen Argyl sophomore Chase Kennedy, playing in his first game of the year, made five of six crucial free throws in the final period while Trowne Irwin-Hill and Christian Hershey also made a pair from the free throw line as Pen Argyl hit nine of 10 free throws in the final period to fend off a Sussex rally.

Overall, Pen Argyl shot 73% from line while senior Jillian Pysher and Hershey, a junior, each scored in double figures with 11 points each.
