One In 3 Don't Count Traveling Home For Holidays A True Vacation

Seven In 10 Said They Would Need A Separate Vacation After The Holiday Break

by Talker Research

Visiting your family for the holidays? According to a new survey, you might need a vacation after your vacation.

In the poll of 2,000 US holiday travelers, a third (34%) don't count traveling home for the holidays as a true "vacation."

In fact, 71% of them said they'd likely need a separate vacation afterwards to unwind and relax.

In order to feel relaxed again, the study — commissioned by IHG Hotels & Resorts and conducted by OnePoll — found people would gladly jump at the chance to take a nap in a large, comfy bed (60%), soak in a jacuzzi (46%) or book a spa day (42%).

Over half (57%) of travelers are plan to stay with friends and family, while 34% are looking to stay elsewhere.

Six in 10 said they love to visit their friends and family over the holidays, but admit they feel "exhausted" by the end of the trip.

When visiting family, 43% said it makes them feel like they're being parented as if they were a kid again. For a quarter of respondents (28%), that means being left feeling annoyed, frustrated or sad.

Those choosing to not stay with friends and relatives are finding sanctuary in hotels (55%), bed-n-breakfasts (40%), hostels (40%) or in short-term rentals (25%).

According to holiday travelers, the perks of staying in a hotel include having more space to themselves (34%), being able to relax and get taken care of by someone else (34%), getting some quiet time (32%), being themselves (29%) and not having to clean after meals (27%).

The first thing they'll do after checking into a hotel usually includes the simple pleasures: enjoying the silence (23%), booking a massage (18%) or just taking a nap (17%).

"The holidays often go hand-in-hand with traveling to see loved ones – but as much as we enjoy visiting friends and family, it can leave us feeling drained," said Connor Smith, Vice President of Masterbrand Strategy at IHG Hotels & Resorts. "When that happens, people want to relax, be taken care of and not worry about cleaning their room in the morning."

The poll found 86% of travelers prefer to stay somewhere quiet and clean to relax in after the hubbub of visiting with family all day during the holidays.

NATIONAL CHRISTMAS CARD DAY

Each year around this time, friends and families begin mailing their holiday cards. Christmas Card Day on December 9th serves as a reminder to get your stamps, envelopes, and cards together so you can share your holiday cheer.

Sending a card during the holidays hasn't always been a tradition. In Victorian England, sending Penny Post was inexpensive and frequent. It was also considered rude to ignore a written message. One particularly popular Victorian invented the holiday card out of necessity. Sir Henry Cole received frequent letters, and it left him little time for other responsibilities. In 1843, he asked his friend J.C. Horsley to illustrate a design he had in mind. Soon, Cole was off to the printer, and he mailed the first Christmas card in the Penny Post to friends, family, and many acquaintances.

Mr. Pastie Celebrates Grand Reopening

By Larry Cory

Mr. Pastie at 10 Bell Avenue in Pen Argyl celebrated its grand reopening with a ribbon cutting yesterday.

Pasties have a long history going as far back as the Cornish immigrants who brought the pastie to the Slate Belt. Quarry workers often carried a pastie in a “blickey” (metal lunch pail) for “peace” which was known in the early days as break time.

The pastie was perfect for the workers since it was big enough to satisfy their lunchtime appetites.

Mr. Pastie produces those same pasties with fresh, warm meat & vegetable turnovers. Mr. Pastie meat and vegetable pasties are always handmade and finger-crimped. The secret is in the crust; tender and flaky pie crust. You can enjoy Mr. Pastie as a hot lunch on the go, a sit-down dinner, or even “brown-bag it” as a cold sandwich.

The pastie has actually been popular throughout the Slate Belt for nearly 140 years.

In the 1940s pasties were sold as fundraisers for improvements at Weona Park.

In Pen Argyl, Wednesday was known as pastie day, and DeNardo’s restaurant on Pennsylvania Avenue (RT 512) always featured pasties on Wednesdays.

The Olde English Food business which made pasties began in Bangor around 1966 before it was purchased by Joe Angelini in 1977. Angelini tweaked the old Cornish pastie recipe at his business on East Bell Avenue,

Mr. Pastie on East Bell Avenue in Pen Argyl celebrated its grand reopening Monday after after the business changed hands recently and got a facade upgrade thanks to Slate Belt Rising. which is the present location of Mr. Pastie.

Pasties were made by hand, starting with the work of Shirley Suprys back in the late 1960s. For 18 years, Ms. Suprys, a Pen Argyl resident, was the “dough lady” at the bakery on Bell Avenue which was the forerunner of Mr. Pastie. She reportedly made dough for more than a million pasties in her career.

The dough recipe, back in the day, was simple: flour, salt, shortening and water molded to suit your fingers. There’s wasn’t a need for a measuring cup because the cooks knew how the dough should feel to touch.

Garnet Sleep, a Slate Belt native and advertising agent working in Washington D.C. introduced the pastie to a client in 1981 which was the seed for nationwide distribution. From there, Sleep and his wife Ceclia then formed Real English Foods to distribute Angelini’s pasties.

In January 1985, Sleep purchased the business and named it Mr. Pastie.

Pasties, incidentally, are also known as “meat pie,” however, the difference between the two is all in the structure. Pasties tend to be defined as a singular, folded pastry case with a crimped lid and a savory filling, typically of seasoned meat and vegetables. Pies, on the other hand, traditionally have a base and sides and a separate lid

Carrots, peas, rutabagas and turnips have all made their way into pasties at one time or another.

FREE LEAD WATER SUPPLY LINE HAZARDS REPLACEMENT

This is to ensure that you are aware of the new Slate Belt Rising partnership with Northampton County to serve the residents of East Bangor Borough. Slate Belt Rising is working on a press release and social media posts that will be sent out this week. Please keep an eye out. SBR would appreciate your help in spreading the word.

Dear Homeowner:

You are receiving this letter because your home is located in an area in need of a safety check to make sure there are no older water supply lines or fixtures in the service area of the East Bangor Municipal Authority. Several older water meters were found to be in service and the plan is to complete a safety check to make sure that there are no other older water supply lines or fixtures in this neighborhood.

Northampton County is working with our local partners Slate Belt Rising, Community Action Lehigh Valley, and the East Bangor Municipal Authority to offer a safety check of residents' interior home water supply lines for any hazards that may be present. We want to be able to say these neighborhood homes are free from any potential water supply line hazards.

Program participation is 100% FREE for residents in the East Bangor Municipal Authority service area.

Northampton County will check for the presence of water line hazards especially in any water line or fixture where lead may be an ingredient. As a rule, older homes are more likely to still have some lead presence in service lines and possibility in some interior plumbing fixtures. Northampton County will also check and replace any water supply line containing lead on the homeowner's side of the water meter. Northampton County's program will look at replacing manifolds/goosenecks, water meters, and older plumbing fixtures still containing lead. The program will use a PA-licensed plumber in any replacement and it will be free of charge for Northampton County homeowners.

Why are we so concerned with Lead?

Exposure to lead has been shown to harm especially very young child living in the home, exposure has been shown to effect brain development, contribute with learning-behavioral problems, and lower IQ's. Very young children are particularly susceptible to the build-up of lead hazards, as their smaller size increases their exposure levels, which is far more damaging to them than adults. As studies have shown that there is no safe level of lead. Lead is this public health menace take away the lead and the problem goes away.

How does lead get into drinking water?

Lead can enter drinking water when pipes and plumbing fixtures that contain lead corrode, especially where the water has high acidity or low mineral content. There are three main sources of lead:

• Lead pipes

• Lead service lines, the pipe that connects the water main under the street to the home's plumbing.

Lead pipes were also used in inside plumbing, but it is unusual. Congress banned the use of lead pipes in 1986.

• Leaded solder – Solder is used to connect copper pipe and fittings. Congress banned the use of leaded solder in 1986.

• Leaded alloys – Brass is frequently used in faucets and other plumbing components. In 1986, Congress limited the amount of lead in brass to 8% (close to the level of lead typical of products at the time) and later in 2014, reduced the limit to a much lower level (0.25%).

Julia Pinter Signs With Wake Forest

By Larry Cory

Bangor High School’s Julia Pinter signed a Letter of Intent Wednesday afternoon to compete in the Javelin with the Wake Forest Track and Field team next year in Winston Salem, North Carolina where she plans to major in Exercise Science.

Her athletic career path, however, wasn’t always headed in that direction.

“I played softball up until my 8th grade year and my dad suggested that I should try (javelin),” Pinter said. “So, I came out freshman year, kind of dealt with COVID not having practice, and started throwing. I just stuck with it and I ended up loving it and started doing it more competitively.”

Pinter, who also plays soccer and basketball, still finds time to perfect her javelin throw.

“It’s kind of just time management and things like that,” she said. “I love playing sports, kind of being all around. I love my teammates being out with my friends at the sport. “

When she finds time to work on throwing the javelin, she says that “technique,” is the most difficult part of the sport.

That technique, however, has led her to consecutive Colonial League

Championships, and a second place in the District 11 AAA tourney. Along the way she also tied the school record with a throw of 136-10.

Highlights of Pinter’s athletic career at Bangor:

- Four-Year Letterwinner in Girls’ Soccer and Track and Field
- Three-Year Letterwinner in Girls’ Basketball
- PIAA 3A Track and Field Championships (Javelin) - 5th Place (2023)
- District XI 3A Track and Field Championships (Javelin) - 2nd Place (2023), 4th Place (2022)
