Dining With Diabetes

Developing a healthy lifestyle is all about taking control. When you have type 2 diabetes it can mean several things. For example, it means learning how to manage your blood sugar, keeping your blood pressure in check, eating well-balanced healthy meals and adding exercise to your daily activities. Many people with type 2 diabetes struggle with basic diabetes management. In the United States there are about 29 million people with diabetes. That is about 1 in 11 people.

Diabetes can lead to serious complications and premature death, but people with diabetes, working together with their support network and their health care providers, can take steps to control the disease and lower the risk of complications.

If you or a loved one is struggling to manage diabetes, The Penn State Extension Dining with Diabetes program could be for you. This nationally accredited program is for adults with or at risk of developing type 2 diabetes. Family members are also invited to attend the program.

Classes are offered weekly for five weeks and kicks off with an orientation session. Participants meet again three months later for a follow-up session to check progress.

This class, a $200 value, is offered at $39.00. Participants learn how to prepare meals that are healthy, simple, and tasty, sample the foods, and learn up to date information on nutrition, planning, and important diabetes-related medical tests. A1C testing is available for an additional cost, and blood pressure will be taken at the orientation session and follow-up class. Participants are also given program booklets and the Dining with Diabetes Cookbook.

Hartzell's Pharmacy 300 American St, Catasauqua, will host the next local Dining with Diabetes session. The program will be held Monday mornings February 4, 11, 25, and March 4, 2019. With a follow-up session held on Monday, April 15, 2019. All sessions will be held from 10:00 am to noon.

To register online at hextension.psu.edu/health/diabetes/events or call 877-345-0691.

Thank You from BMCL

The Blue Mountain Community Library would like to express its thanks to everyone who came to support the Library Book Nook Sale on January 17-19 by purchasing books and other items. The Semi-Annual Book Nook Sale is an important fundraiser for the library in order to meet all its needs. Besides the purchase of books, the library must pay all its financial obligations, as well as maintain the upkeep and necessary repairs to the building. Thanks also to all who came and enjoyed the MLK Indoor Carnival on Monday, Jan. 21 at the Library. We had 37 children and adults participate in this successful event. Many brought a Food Item to put in our donations to the Benders Church Food Bank, which continues through Feb.22. Please bring a non-perishable food item to the library when you visit. The Library Board would also like to express its thanks to the Slate Pub in Pen Argyl for generously sponsoring a fundraiser for the library this past October.

The library offers several free group activities open to anyone in the area. On Fridays, there is a Knitter's Group that meets upstairs at 10:30 am. On the third Tuesday of each month at 6:30 pm, the Book Discussion Group meets in the back room on the first floor. The book selection for Feb. 19 is "The Cemetery Keeper's Wife" by Maryann McFadden, who will be the featured Author at the Library's Author's Luncheon on April 25. Pre-school Story Hour meets on the second floor of the library every Wed. and Thurs. at 10:30 am. All children accompanied by an adult are welcome. Please consider joining one or all of these groups. Remember that if the Pen Argyl Schools are closed for inclement weather, the Library will not be open. The Blue Mountain Community Library is located at 216 S. Robinson Ave. in Pen Argyl. Hours are M-Sa, 10:00 am to Noon, and M-Th, 6:00-8:00 pm. Membership is free to all residents of the Pen Argyl Area School District. Non-residents may join for a small yearly fee. Call Lisa at 610-863-3029 for information or visit the website at www.bmcl.org. Find us on Facebook at facebook.com/bmclpenargyl.
