Century Old Paper Sheds Light on Pen Argyl History Pen Argyl Index of 1914 Booster Edition

Pen Argyl historian Waler Cole holds one of the many visuals he used during a presentation about Pen Argyl history last night at the Slate Belt Heritage Center. He also showed a copy of a special 1914 edition of the Pen Argyl Index pictured below. Photo: Larry Cory

A feature of the 1914 edition of the Pen Argyl Index was a story about a shoe company on Applegate Ave (Constitution Avenue)

William Krell Shoe Company Manufacturers of High Grade Misses and Children's Shoes.

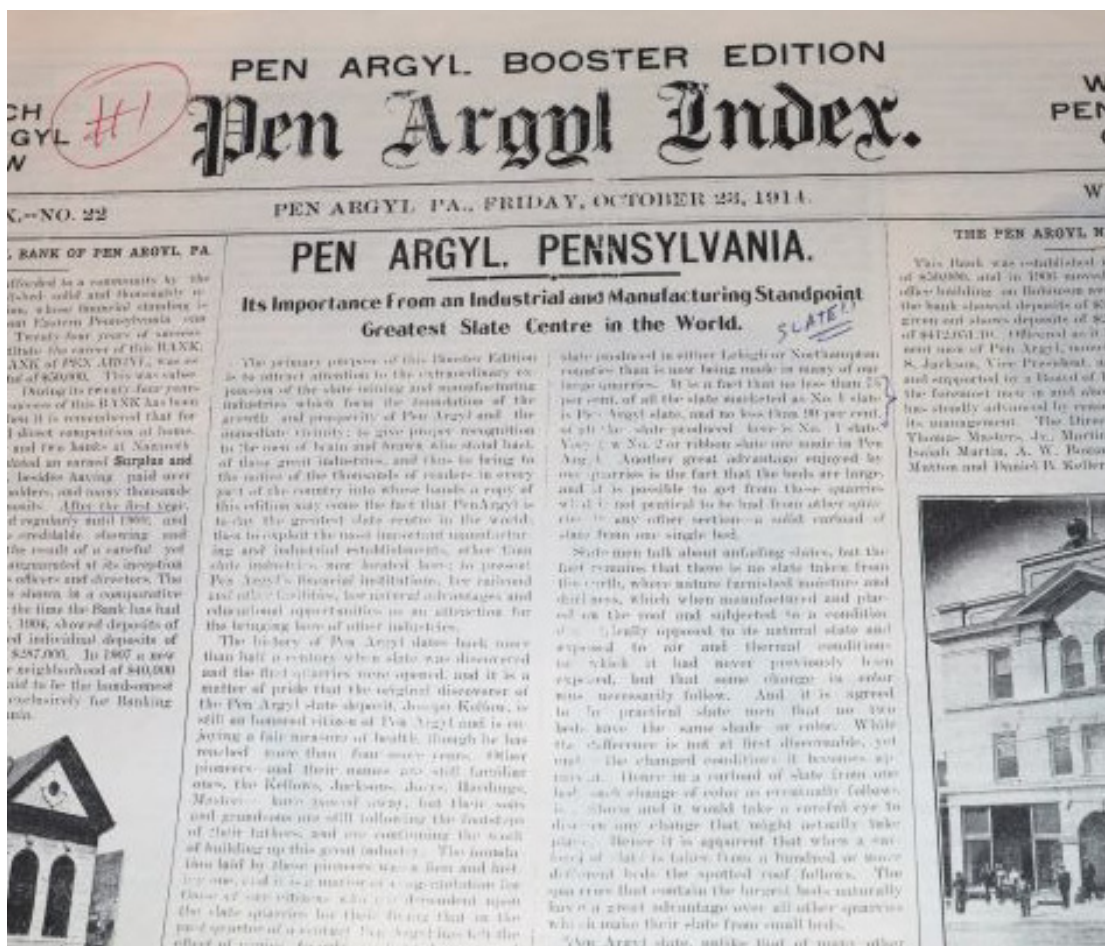

This firm after several years of successful manufacturing operations in Allentown, during which it built up a steady growing trade, found itself in a position where it was compelled to seek larger quarters.

The output of its factory had reached 350 pairs of shoes a day. About a year ago negotiations were opened with the Pen Argyl Board of Trade with the result that the company decided to move its plant to Pen Argyl. A splendid factory building, constructed along modern and sanitary lines, was erected on Applegate avenue, and on January 2, 1914, the manufacture of shoes was started.

The results attained in the short space of nine months are far better than their most sanguine expectations. Between fifty and sixty hands are now employed and the daily output has reached 800 pairs.

The firm's payroll for the first year will aggregate over $30,000 ($877,000,000 today) New machinery of the very best are being installed from time to time, and the plant represents an investment of many thousands of dollars.

This industry is a valuable one for Pen Argyl. Its constant and rapid growth is due mainly to the superior quality of its products, and the great demand for these shoes is shown by a recent order for 36,000 pairs for immediate delivery from one well-known firm. (Original Index Story)

The primary purpose of this Booster Edition is to attract attention to the extraordinary resources of the slate mining and manufacturing industries which form the foundation of the growth and prosperity of Pen Argyl and the immediate vicinity; to give proper recognition to these great industries; and thus to bring to the notice of the thousands of readers in every part of the country into whose hands a copy of this edition may come the fact that Pen Argyl is today the greatest slate center in the world. It is to exploit the most important manufacturing and industrial establishment, other than shoe industries, now located here; to present Pen Argyl's financial institutions, its railroad and other facilities, its natural advantages and educational opportunities as an attractive for the bringing here of other industries.

The history of Pen Argyl dates back more than half a century when slate was discovered and the first quarries were opened; and it is a matter of pride that the original discoverer of the Pen Argyl slate deposit, Joseph Kellum, is still an honored citizen of Pen Argyl and is enjoying a fair measure of health, though he has reached more than four score years. Other pioneers and their names are still familiar ones, the Kellums, Jacksons, Jukes, Hardings, Mellers -- long since away, but their sons and grandsons are still following the footsteps of their fathers, and are continuing the work of building up this great industry. The foundation laid by these pioneers was a firm and fast one, and it is a matter of congratulation for those of our citizens who are dependent upon the slate quarries for their living that in the past quarter of a century Pen Argyl has felt the effect of prices, locally and nationally, and slate produced in either Lakewood or Northampton counties than is now being made in any of our large quarries. It is a fact that no less than 75 per cent. of all the slate marketed as No. 1 slate is Pen Argyl slate, and no less than 90 per cent. of all the slate produced here is No. 1 slate. Very few No. 2 or ribbon slates are made in Pen Argyl. Another great advantage enjoyed by our quarries is the fact that the beds are large, and it is possible to get from these quarries what is not possible to be had from other quarries. In any other section a solid railroad of slate from one single bed.

Slate men talk about unfading slates, but the fact remains that there is no slate taken from the earth, where nature furnished moisture and sunlight, which when manufactured and placed on the roof and subjected to a condition of weather, readily opposed to its natural state and exposed to air and thermal conditions to which it had never previously been exposed, but that some change is invariably, necessarily follow. And it is agreed to by practical slate men that no two beds have the same shade or color. While the difference is not at first discernible, yet with the changed conditions it becomes apparent. Hence in a surface of slate from one bed, such change of color is constantly followed by a change and it would take a careful eye to discover any change that might actually take place. Hence it is apparent that when a surface of slate is taken from a hundred or more different beds the spotted roof follows. The quarries that contain the largest beds naturally have a great advantage over all other quarries which make their slates from small beds.

Pen Argyl slate, unlike that of many other

Moravian Historical Society

The Moravian Historical Society is pleased to announce their participation in Passport to History Month—a celebration of the sites, stories, and community that bring Lehigh Valley history to life. The event gives an opportunity for visitors, regardless of family size or income, to explore local history through a variety of museum tours, interactive exhibits, children's activities, and more.

On Saturday July 16 from 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. and Sunday July 17 from 12 p.m. - 4 p.m., the Moravian Historical Society will offer free admission, guided museum tours, kids activities, an antique book sale, and programs for explorers of all ages.

Visitors can learn about the significant contributions Moravians made to music, art, education and culture in early America on a guided tour of the 1740-1743 Whitefield House Museum. Explore archival documents and historic maps detailing the perspectives of surveyors, European settlers and Indigenous people in our special exhibit "Charting the Unknown: Early Moravian Maps."

Children can try their hand at colonial chores and other history-themed activities. Adults will enjoy browsing a large collection of antique books offered for sale.

Rovers and Low Lily. “Being an anniversary year, we tried to cover all the Celtic genres from trad to Celtic rock” explained Jayne Ann Recker, Executive Director. Across the Pond, Dave North Trio and The McKrells will satisfy fans of the traditional while The Kilmaine Saints, Emish and the Glengarry Bhoys will raise the tempo. Local favorites Fig For a Kiss and Chivalrous Crickets return as well. Visitors will be surrounded with the distinct Celtic sound of tin whistles, bag pipes and fiddles wherever they are on the grounds.

The Celtic Classic has 5 free stages of Celtic music throughout the festival grounds and in the Ice House. World class Celtic entertainers will perform over 100 hours of free Celtic music. Many of the Celtic tunes are the traditional Irish jigs, shanties, drinking songs and ballads combined with a lyrical story-telling.

In addition to musical performances, O’Grady Quinlan Irish Academy of Dance will have several performances throughout the festival weekend. With precision footwork and dazzling costumes, O’Grady Quinlan shares the Irish culture through their performances. Cultural presentations will be held throughout the day in Celtic Heritage Hollow, including musical workshops, a Scottish shortbread baking contest, lectures, clans & societies and the Children’s Activity Tent.

Celtic Classic will also see the return of Gene Sheninger of Wayside Farm. Sheninger will demonstrate how border collies can herd sheep and ducks. Border collies have been used for herding for hundreds of years in the Celtic nations.

Deadline Extended for 2021 Property Tax/Rent Rebate Program

The deadline for senior citizens and Pennsylvanians with disabilities to apply for rebates on rent and property taxes paid in 2021 has been extended to Dec. 31.

The Property Tax/Rent Rebate Program benefits eligible Pennsylvanians age 65 and older; widows and widowers age 50 and older; and people with disabilities age 18 and older. The income limit is $35,000 annually for homeowners and $15,000 annually for renters, and half of Social Security income is excluded.

The maximum standard rebate for homeowners is $650, but supplemental rebates for certain qualifying homeowners can boost rebates to $975. The Department of Revenue automatically calculates supplemental rebates for qualifying homeowners.

Claimants are encouraged to file their rebate applications online by visiting mypath.pa.gov. No account is required. Applicants who still wish to file a paper application form may obtain Property Tax/Rent Rebate claim forms (PA-1000) and related information on the Department of Revenue's website or by calling 1-888-222-9190.

Rebates will be distributed beginning July 1, as required by law. The easiest way to check the status of your rebate after July 1 is to use the Where's My Rebate? tool. To check on the status of your claim, you will need your Social Security number, claim year and date of birth

Ways to Help NATIVE BEES

- Plant native trees. Trees provide a large nectar source from their blossoms and habitat for some bees.
- Plant native plants that bloom during the spring, summer, and fall to provide a continuous food source.
- Avoid using herbicides, pesticides, and insecticides. Find organic ways to garden and remove pests.
- Provide water and habitat such as bare soil in your garden for ground-nesting bees, leave plant stems standing in winter, dead trees or fallen logs, or bee nesting houses.
- Participate in citizen science opportunities to help count bees like the Bumble Bee Watch, Great Sunflower Project, and more.
- Spread the word! Let others know how they can help.

Tips for planting a POLLINATOR GARDEN

- Choose native plants which provide nutritional value for pollinators and require less maintenance
- Choose native plants that bloom at different times (early spring – late fall), providing food all season
- Choose plants with flowers of different sizes, shapes, and colors for the diversity of pollinators
- Plant at least 3 or more of one kind of plant together to provide larger drifts of color to attract pollinators
- Form a weed barrier by planting natives closer together instead of using mulch or landscape fabric
- Save garden clean up until spring! Pollinators overwinter in different life stages

Mountain Laurel

Pennsylvania State Flower Facts

Chosen as state flower in 1933 by Governor Gifford Pinchot

Shrub that grows 4 to 10 feet high and blooms late May through June

Not an easy to grow landscaping plant, has particular soil needs

All parts of shrub are toxic to people and animals

Host plant for the Laurel Sphinx Moth

Attracts butterflies, hummingbirds, and other pollinators

Considered one of the most beautiful native flowering shrubs

Provides shelter for birds and small mammals in winter

Ways to Help Eastern MONARCHS

- Plant native nectar plants that bloom in the spring, summer, and fall in a sunny area.
- Plant the caterpillar host plant milkweed (butterfly weed Asclepias tuberosa, common milkweed Asclepias syriaca, swamp milkweed Asclepias incarnata).
- Avoid using herbicides and pesticides. Find organic ways to garden.
- Enhance monarch habitat by providing water and a place to shelter with dense patches of wildflowers and shrubs.
- Participate in citizen science opportunities where you can help track monarch sightings in spring and fall.
- Spread the word! Let others know how they can help.
