Dew Points and Recent Muggy Days

Dew points since July 4 have averaged in the high 60s to low or mid 70s with the highest reaching 76 July 9 and 10.

What that means: The dew point is the temperature at which the air can not hold anymore water vapor, meaning that water will condense into liquid form at that temperature. Since evaporation of water make objects and people feel cooler, higher dew points reduce evaporation and cooling.

Dew points below 60 provide comfortable conditions for most people. Dew points in the 60-65 range make conditions somewhat sticky. Dew points 66-70 are uncomfortable for most while 71-75 is oppressive and 76 or more is downright miserable.

Heat Advisory Now In Effect

Dangerously hot conditions with heat index values up to 108 possible in portions of northwest New Jersey and southeast Pennsylvania.

Impacts: Heat related illnesses increase significantly during extreme heat and high humidity events.

Drink plenty of fluids, stay in an air-conditioned room, stay out of the sun, and check up on relatives and neighbors.

Do not leave young children and pets in unattended vehicles. Car interiors will reach lethal temperatures in a matter of minutes.

Monitor the latest forecasts and warnings for updates.

Children attending the BMCL Summer Story Time at Wind Gap park recently enjoyed a story about the Summer Olympics and games. Story time will continue on July 24 at Wind Gap Park and on August 7 and 21 at Weona Park in Pen Argyl. Call the library for information.

Scuba Diving in the Delaware & Lehigh Rivers

The Slate Belt Heritage Center will present an interesting program titled "Scuba Diving in the Delaware and Lehigh Rivers" on Thursday, August 8th @ 7:00 PM. Speaker Joe Fiorentino will share his experiences scuba diving in the Delaware and Lehigh Rivers and speak about the wildlife and history of popular diving sites.

Topics to be shared include the wildlife in the Delaware Water Gap, remains of the collapsed bridge from the 1955 Floods under the Northampton Street Bridge (Free Bridge) in Easton and prohibition era artifacts from the Lehigh River in Bethlehem.

Joe Fiorentino is an accomplished SCUBA instructor and shipwreck explorer. He has led divers to many of the popular wrecks off the coast of New Jersey, as well as expeditions to Nova Scotia Canada to locate colonial shipwrecks as part of an archeological team.

Shipwreck explorer Fiorentino spent decades exploring shipwrecks along the northeast United States and Canada. He was the lead diver of the Canadian and American team that identified and recovered the remains of the warship HMS Feversham.

Fiorentino is a PADI Master SCUBA Diver Trainer, a National Member of the Philadelphia Chapter of the Explorers Club and a Washington Township resident.

The program is free and open to the public. The Heritage Center is located at 30 North 1st Street, Bangor, PA. For additional information please contact: Karen Brewer @ 484-894-5661.

St. Luke's Ambulances First Ground EMS to Stock Blood

St. Luke's Emergency and Transport Service Are First Ground EMS in Region to Stock Whole Blood on Ambulances

St. Luke's Emergency and Transport Service (SLETS) is now able to carry whole blood on its specialized critical care transport (CCT) ambulances.

"Our Critical Care Transport teams comprised of an experienced critical care pre-hospital registered nurse, a critical care paramedic and our highly trained EMTs are a natural fit to provide this service," Chris Zukowski, BSN, RN, of St. Luke's Emergency and Transport Services, said. "Having whole blood will be another tool that our team can use to save lives."

St. Luke's SLETS CCT whole blood program follows a recent update by the Department of Health Bureau of Emergency Medical Services to its Advanced Life Support Protocols. The update allows paramedics throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania who are specially trained, credentialed and approved by their local EMS Council's Medical Advisory Committee to carry blood and/or blood products in their ambulances.

"With whole blood readily available on the Network's SLETS CCT ambulances, this allows the nurses and paramedics on the CCT team to quickly stabilize critically ill or injured patients who are suffering from hemorrhagic shock," Zukowski explained.

Whole blood is valued by EMS teams because all of its components – red blood cells, white blood cells, platelets and plasma – are present. The first and most common use is for patients involved in traumatic-related incidents causing massive blood loss.

The CCT ambulances primarily transport patients between St. Luke's University Health Network hospitals.

Giant Moth Visits Area Yard

This giant moth landed in the yard behind the Town Topics office this week.

The Polyphemus moth, is a North American member of the family of the giant silk moths. It is a tan-colored moth, with an average wingspan of six inches. The most notable feature of the moth is its large, purplish eyespots on its two hindwings. The eyespots give it its name – from the Greek myth of the cyclops Polyphemus.

The caterpillar can eat 86,000 times its weight at emergence in a little less than two months.

After the moths mate, the female spends the majority of the remainder of her life laying eggs, while the male may mate several more times. Adults of this family of moths have vestigial mouths, meaning their mouth parts

Half-Century Old VW Beetle Displayed at WTVFC Car Show

The Volkswagen Beetle, officially the Volkswagen Type 1 was a small car produced by the German company Volkswagen from 1938 to 2003. It is one of the most iconic cars in automotive history and is recognized for its distinctive shape. Its production period of 65 years is the longest of any single generation of automobile and its total production of over 21.5 million is the most of any car of a single platform. The leader of Nazi Germany, Adolf Hitler, decided there was a need for a people's car to serve Germany's new road network, the Reichsautobahn. The result was the Volkswagen Type 1 and the introduction of the Volkswagen brand. Volkswagen initially slated production for the late 1930s, but the outbreak of war in 1939 meant that production was delayed until the war had ended.
