Slaters - Knights' Baseball Rivalry Continues With a Double Header Today

by Larry Cory

Bangor and Pen Argyl high schools officially sanctioned sports in 1922, leading to the first high school football game between the two schools on Armistice Day (Veterans Day) November 11, 1922. A few months later, the Bangor High School baseball team defeated Pen Argyl 2-1 May 17 at Weona Park. A week later at Flory's Field on North Main Street in Bangor, the Slate Pickers (as they were known then) won 8-6.

Counting those first two games the high school baseball teams have played 165 games with Bangor winning 91 and Pen Argyl 74 going into this year's games schedule for today.

The high school baseball rivalry, however, was not played on a regular basis until 1945. Before then there were several years when the teams did not play, even though the Slate Belt high school football and basketball teams played every year.

After playing those historic first games in 1923, no games between the schools were played during the next two years. The new Bangor park on North Main Street was under construction in 1924 and 1925 leaving Bangor without a playing field, even though the Bangor A.A. played a slate of games.

In 1929, possibly because of the great depression, neither school had a baseball team.

In 1930, Bangor and Pen Argyl teams were charter members of the newly formed Lehigh-Northampton League. The teams played in 1930 and 31, but no games between the schools were played over the next three years.

In 1934 Bangor, Wilson, and others, with the exception of Pen Argyl, dropped out of the league. Bangor resorted to intramural play, while Pen Argyl may have had field issues.

In 1938, there were no published reports of games between Bangor and Pen Argyl.

In 1940, the Weona Park athletic field was being repaired, forcing Pen Argyl to play football and baseball games on the road. One of those road games was the first high school baseball game ever played at the new Bangor Park at its present location. Pen Argyl spoiled opening day ceremonies defeating Bangor 6-1.

In 1941, the Weona athletic field project was on hold because there was a shortage of WPA project workers. From 1942 to 1944, no games were played. because of the impact of WWII.

From there, the teams have played on a regular basis until 2020 when the COVID pandemic forced cancellation of the games scheduled for

Baseball First Sport Played in the Slate Belt Starting in 1871

by Larry Cory

The first published reports of any athletic competition in the Slate Belt occurred in 1871 when a team from Portland defeated the Delawares from Belvidere, New Jersey 45-34.

Subsequent anecdotal reports told of teams in Pen Argyl in 1882, and 1887. Bangor reportedly fielded a team as early as 1892 and was scheduled to play the Olympia team from Easton.

By 1895, both Slate Belt communities sponsored community teams, and according to a published report in August of that same year, the two teams had split a pair of games ahead of a third and deciding game of a three-game series.

The following report in the Allentown leader showed that the game and community rivalry was already important.

"The Pen Argyl Club has challenged the Bangor Club to play the third and deciding game of the series for the championship of the Slate Belt at Easton," the Leader said. "A special train will take people to Easton. Receipts will be evenly divided between the two teams."

We may never know who won that game, or if the game was even played, but it was obvious that the rivalry had begun and that Bangor and Pen Argyl were bent on proving who had the better team.

In 1897, Bangor defeated Pen Argyl 14-3 in the opener of the 'championship series.' A second game was played October 22 at Bangor in which Pen Argyl fans were charged 15 cents for admission and Bangor fans were only charged 10 cents. To which a Pen Argyl reporter replied: "This will cost them (Bangor) dearly in the future for the patrons from town (Pen Argyl) will not easy forget."

Pen Argyl won that game 5-2, but there were no reports of a third game.

Slaters - Knights Baseball Rivalry Award

The Bangor - Pen Argyl rivalry is alive and well in the baseball world. Bangor and Pen Argyl high schools have created a seasonal rivalry award to be passed between the two schools for years to come.

The award will go to the team who either wins both head to head games, or if the teams split the seasonal series, the award goes to the team that scores the most runs.

This award gives a little extra meaning to the importance of the rivalry and gives the players a little extra (motivation) to play through the season.

Pen Argyl Coach Matt Suarez and Bangor Coach Anthony Martino started talking about two years ago when they played in a summer tournament. They worked on the award and details surrounding the award throughout the year and finalized everything just before the start of last season.

Finding Your Roots in the Slate Belt

How do you search for ancestors and connect your genealogy to family stories, local history and to national events? Come to the Slate Belt Heritage monthly program on Thursday May 12th at 7:00 PM to discover the process. Sharon Oxford Gothard, from the History Room of the Easton Public Library, will talk about where you look for family information and what resources are available at the History Room. Melissa Hough, curator of the Slate Belt Heritage Center, will explain how genealogy connects people and family stories, which helped create the title of the current exhibit: "We Look Higher". The exhibit is based on the Center's latest ethnic publication: "The African American Experience in the Slate Belt". Featured, also in the exhibit, is a tribute to the many other ethnic groups that came to the Slate Belt seeking a better life and stable employment such as the Welsh, Cornish, Irish, Italians and Bulgarians. The program is free and open to the public. The Center is now open Saturdays and Sundays 12-3. Admission is free, but donations are kindly accepted to fund the new exhibit and new look of the Center. The Pennsylvania Longrifle... and You!

Saturday, May 28 at 10:30am to 11:30am
 In this seminar, guest speaker Dave Ehrig will explore the roots of our state’s iconic new symbol. From humble frontier roots, an evolution of gunmaking technology took place, the rifled barrel. While Henry of Lancaster, along with other Lancaster gunsmiths like Matthias Roesser, George Fainot, Jacob Dickert, and others were among the first to exploit the legendary accuracy of long rifled barrels, the Henry family’s fame would increase as the technology was brought to the Moravian Societies in Christian’s Spring, Nazareth, and Boulton. To hold an early Andreas Albrecht, Christian Oerter, or Wm. Henry Jr. longrifle in one’s hands is to create such an indelible memory of Pennsylvania history that it causes many skilled modern longrifle builders to attempt to recreate them. This program will raise your spirits and enlighten your pride in the Keystone State and its iconic gun. Registration is required.
